2. Design Critiques

The team reviewed the current design and identified the following areas for improvement:

- Text Line Width:
    - The line width of the text is currently too long, which affects readability.
  - Disney Identity:
    - There isn't enough representation of Disney's iconic identity in the design.
  - Color Usage:
    - The design feels muted due to a lack of color, making it less engaging.
  - Page Differentiation:
    - There is no clear distinction between pages, leading to a uniform and repetitive appearance.
  - Imagery and Viewer Experience:
    - The design lacks sufficient imagery and feels overwhelming to viewers, possibly due to text density or layout.

3. Next Steps and Challenges

- Moving Forward:

The team discussed potential challenges that may arise during the design process.

- Key focus: maintaining open and regular communication to address issues promptly.
- Action Items:
  - Anika to incorporate the critiques into the updated design.
  - Team members to stay connected and provide feedback throughout the process to ensure progress aligns with the vision.
